(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)
SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Jan. 18.—Shawneetown, a village of 1500 population, upon the bend of the Ohio River, near the Indiana and Kentucky State lines, is threatened with a repetition of the great flood of 1894, which devastated the country for miles around and caused loss of life and great suffering. The waters are steadily rising. Heavy rains continue. Secretary of State Rose today received a message, asking that sixty tents be sent at once for the use of those driven from their homes. All the stores and buildings on the water front have been abandoned, and people are homeless.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Major H. B. Hersey, United States Weather Bureau Inspector, who arrived yesterday, discussed the plans of the Wellman Arctic expedition, which will take the aerial route to the pole, and of which he will be the second in command. Hersey is here on his annual tour of inspection, having visited the Weather Bureau of the Northwest.

In speaking of the preparations for the trip to the pole, Maj. Hersey said that headquarters for the expedition were established on Spitzbergen islands last year. Supplies were brought to the uninhabited islands from France and Norway, machine shops and balloon sheds, been built, and a staunch Arctic ice vessel purchased as tender for the airship.

The ship is a dirigible balloon, with a 3000 foot long and a car 100 feet long. The lifting power is 18,000 pounds. The airship is now on the coast of Norway, and Maj. Hersey will join the expedition in the spring in time for the early trials.

The major says he hopes, if everything goes well, to reach the North Pole in thirty-six hours from Spitzbergen, Norway.

FEAR IN JAMS ON COLUMBIA.
FEARED DAMS WILL BREAK.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—The Steamship Columbia of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company's line is still fast in the ice three miles above St. Helena in the Columbia River.

The steamer Roanoke of the North Pacific Steamship Company is also tied up at St. Helena. The temperature is rising on the upper river and a change in the situation is looked for soon. With a rapid thaw and the volume of heavy ice in the river at all points above, considerable damage may result. The dams will give way and the ice will come down in a bunch.

Chicago Contractor Accused of Murdering His Wife Is Released to His Children.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Three hours after the jury had returned its verdict acquitting him, Knute O. Knudson was holding his children in his arms and alternately weeping and laughing. The little ones covered his face with kisses. At 1:30 o'clock this morning, an automobile bearing the vindicated father dashed up to the door of the Knudson home in West Pullman, and the man just freed of the charge of murdering the mother of his children by poison sprang out and started up the stairs to the second floor, three steps at a time.

"Father!"
"Ann! my little Annie!"
The contractor's 10-year-old daughter, whose letters of love and presence in the courtroom inspired him throughout the long ordeal, was in his arms.

Turns Down Wlachlan.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Rep. Wlachlan today received from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce a strong letter urging that provision be made for compelling the breakerwater San Pedro Harbor by connecting it with the shore 200 feet away. Wlachlan will do what he can but the uniform rule of the River and Harbor Committee is that no improvements shall be provided unless surveyed and recommended by the Engineer Review Board appears to knock out the breakerwater proposition. Provision may possibly be made for a survey to determine the advisability of connecting the breakerwater with the shore.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Three hours after the jury had returned its verdict acquitting him, Knute O. Knudson was holding his children in his arms and alternately weeping and laughing. The little ones covered his face with kisses. At 1:30 o'clock this morning, an automobile bearing the vindicated father dashed up to the door of the Knudson home in West Pullman, and the man just freed of the charge of murdering the mother of his children by poison sprang out and started up the stairs to the second floor, three steps at a time.

The contractor's 10-year-old daughter, whose letters of love and presence in the courtroom inspired him throughout the long ordeal, was in his arms.

RESOLUTION
IS PRESENTED.Attorney-General to Defend State's Action.Senate and Assembly Take Up Exclusion.Japanese Test Proceedings at Standstill.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through instructions issued today by Gov. Gillett, the State of California may secure in legal warfare with the United States government in the matter of the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco.Just how far the State may go in the matter is not yet determined, but orders have been issued by the Governor to Atty-Gen. Webb to proceed at once to San Francisco and take such part in the proceedings as he may find necessary to uphold the rights of the commonwealth. This action followed a lively session of the Senate this morning, in which Senators Caminetti and Curran of the Democratic minority, and Belshaw, Wolfe and Leavitt of the Republican majority, took leading parts.Rapid-fire debate, fervid oratory of the antebellum kind, and the resort to numerous parliamentary tricks by one side and the other gave an advantage were features of the exciting event. Nominally defeated, the Democrats succeeded in gaining the end they sought, and with greater promptness than they had expected, for within two hours from the time they were assembled, the information came to the Senate that the Governor had taken the very action they recommended.The bomb, with lighted fuse, was dropped in the Senate chamber by Caminetti shortly after opening of the morning session. It spluttered and sparked for several seconds before the Republican leaders realized the fact that it might explode with disastrous results; then there was a scramble to "size it" and have it out the window.The project was in the form of a resolution drawn and introduced by Caminetti, in which he recited the fact that the United States government has caused proceedings to be started in the State and Federal courts in an endeavor to prevent the Board of Education of San Francisco from exercising its rights under the laws of California, and municipal regulations to maintain separate schools for Japanese children.The question at issue," runs the resolution, "effect to place in jeopardy, not only the rights, interests and privileges of the State of California as a sovereign State of the Union, but also those of her citizens. The State of California denies and disputes the right and authority of the United States, or of any foreign nation to interfere in the administration of the public school system of the State."In conclusion, it reads: "Resolved, by the Senate, the Assembly, the Assembly concurring, that the Hon. U. S.
Webb, Attorney-General of California, in order to maintain, protect and defend the aforesaid rights, interests and privileges, is hereby authorized, empowered and instructed, for and in behalf of the State of California, to conduct, prosecute, defend, and take part in the law and rules of the courts, to take part in, initiate in, litigate in, and all actions in the Federal or State courts, that may now be pending therein, or which may hereafter be commenced therein, by or on behalf of the government of the United States, or any other government, or any person, against the said Board of Education, or any officer or person acting under State or municipal authority, and said Attorney-General is hereby further authorized and empowered to commence and prosecute in a court of competent jurisdiction all necessary actions and proceedings required in the premises to maintain, protect and defend the aforesaid rights, interests and privileges."He made an eloquent plea for speedy determination of the part the State should take in the matter.His motion was referred to the resolution to the Judiciary Committee, whereupon Senator Curran leaped into the fray, and asked that it be called before that committee, and placed in the body of the Senate. This brought Senators Wolfe and Leavitt to the aid of the presiding officer, and Senator Belshaw urged caution, saying there was no haste, and that just as much good could be accomplished by waiting until the Judiciary Committee could report upon it Tuesday. In this he was supported by Senator Willis.Senator Wolfe argued that the Senate already had placed itself on record by passing a law two years ago establishing separate schools for Mongolian children. The motion to recall the resolution from committee was lost through the large negative vote of the Republican majority, and it was agreed then that the Judiciary Committee should make a report on it Tuesday at 11 o'clock.Upon reassembling, after the noon recess, however, Senator Wolfe advised the Senate that the Judiciary Committee had met and had agreed to report on the resolution Monday afternoon.
He also stated that the Governor had instructed his secretary to advise the Attorney-General to appear in the case now under way in San Francisco.A bill will be introduced on Monday, Senator Wolfe said, authorizing the employment of special counsel by the State to assist the Attorney-General in carrying for the interests of the State.
It was announced for Atty-Gen.
Webb that he previously had considered the matter of taking part in the case, but that he was loath to proceed until it was shown his services were required. According to the opinion of many lawyers here, there is no urgent demand for interference by the State. The Board of Education of San Francisco is supposed to be able to cope with the situation. But now that the Attorney-General has been instructed to appear, he will be ready to defend any rights of the State that may need protection. Just how serious the menace may be, no one at this point is able to determine.

GRAND JURY INDICTS
CHICAGO FINANCER.John R. Walsh Is Held to Answer
One Hundred and Eighty-two Counts Alleging Misapplication of Funds of the Chicago National.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The special Federal grand jury of the Northern District of Illinois, in its report made to Judge A. B. Anderson, shortly after noon yesterday, returned an indictment against John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank, on charges alleging misapplication of the funds of that institution.The indictment contained 182 counts.
No process was issued.At 2:30 o'clock Walsh gave bonds in the sum of $50,000 signed by the Illinois Surety Company. A bond in this amount was not required by Judge Anderson, but representatives of the Walsh family volunteered the same surety offered in the preliminary proceeding.Judge Anderson set February 6 as the date of the filing of the pleadings by the defendant and if the plea call for argument, a hearing will be had at that time.A statement by John S. Miller, Edward O. Ritscher and Samuel R. Hem-mell, of counsel for Walsh, says in part:
"No man has ever yet paid a dollar by trusting him (Walsh). His banks were closed and the great loss to himcaused by the sudden action of others without notice or the opportunity on his part of taking the steps required to avoid it. His conscience is clear.
He knows the charges made against him are not founded on facts."He and all intimately connected with him know that in connection with the affairs of the Chicago National Bank and indeed in his connection with any of the corporations in which he is interested, he never did a dishonest act."It is claimed that Walsh placed in the bank twenty-two "memorandum notes" aggregating in face value $3,- 000,000 and placed the proceeds to the credit of his personal account. Thirteen unlawful transactions in the bonds of the Southern Indiana and Illinois Southern Railway, owned by Walsh, are also charged, it being alleged that Walsh sold these bonds to the bank and placed the proceeds to the credit of his personal account, the amounting to $322,300, to his personal credit. It is charged in the indictment that the money secured by these transactions was paid by Walsh to the Southern Indiana and Illinois Southern railroads and other enterprises of his own.The Rev. School Laws Committee, for the medical examination of pupils in public schools.By Collier, providing for licensing of land surveyors.By Thompson of San Francisco, amending the purity of election laws.By Thompson of Los Angeles, permitting municipal authorities to clear noxious weeds a nuisance when permitted to grow alongside walks of a city, and providing penalties therefor for violation of property.An attempt to increase the patronage of the Assembly was made this morning by Assemblyman Trammis of Los Angeles, aided by Corbhan of San Francisco and supported by Drew. The proposal to do so resulted in an oratorical battle that took up a greater portion of the morning's session and ended by the matter being for the first time put squarely before the members of the Assembly, who were asked to vote either in favor of or against the increase. When the roll sheet was called up it was found that the vote was 33 for and 33 against the proposal of Trammis. Speaker Beardslee voted no and the resolution was lost.Assemblyman Birdsell is preparing a bill which, if passed, will go away with the hope of articles of the session draw thousands of dollars from the State treasury by the mere silence of their names to State warrants.
He intends introducing a bill providing that a flat salary shall be paid the legislature, for their services every two years instead of so much per day for each and every session, and that the patronage allowed each member be done away with. His bill is to have the salary of the members of the Assembly fixed at $750 a session and that of the Senate at $1,000.In the matter of attaché his bill will provide that a $8 patronage be allowed the members of the Senate and $12 per day allotted to the members of the Senate. The total amount of patronage allowed the assembly to be have the salary of the members of the As-
of the Senate at $1,000.A new constitutional amendment relating the pay of attaché is to be introduced by Assemblyman Birdsell. It provides that the total appropriation per day for attaché shall not exceed $150 for both houses. At present the pay of attaché is costing the State over $2500 a day.At a meeting of the Committee on State Revenue and Expenditure it was practically decided that a tentative bill would be taken in the near future to all the State revenues and new taxes in California. The committee will include the institutions at Stockton, Napa, Yuba and Marysville. The bill providing for the State Normal School at San Jose. Party lines will not be drawn in this case.Birdsell will attempt to have the Legislature construct a State highway to run to and around the southern end of Lake Tahoe, beginning at Meyers Station. He wants a well constructed road from the latter place past Teller and McKenny's and up to Emerald Bay. There is some question as to the State's title to the land between the latter and Emerald Bay.
Birdsell provides for an appropriation of $25,- 000 for the work.

SENATE.

The opinion prevails among the Republican Senators that Gov. Gillett will resign in the near future. The list which he tabored yesterday.Charles Wheeler is expected to go back as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of California, and Senator Sanford's name is also mentioned in connection with the position. He is expected to go as a member of the Board of Regents of the State Normal School in San Jose. Party lines will not be drawn in this case.Senator Mattos has a strong Alameda county following and according to his friends this will play an important part in regard to his appointment as State Harbor Commissioner.Belshaw is practically assured of a reappointment, as he is a friend of the Governor. In an interview last night the Governor said he would not announce his appointment for a week or more, but said he would earnestly consider each name on the list as appointed by Pardee before coming to San Francisco. He is expected to be drawn yesterday, but nothing more definite could be obtained from him.

LONG BEACH MUST "LOBBY."

Dispatch.] Long Beach probably will have to engage in active lobbying among the legislators if it is to obtain the troop of cavalry proposed by a number of its citizens, and provided for in a bill introduced in the Assembly by Thompson of Los Angeles.Adm. Gen. Lauck has expressed himself as opposed to a bill introduced by a branch of the National Guard."Cavalry never can be of much service in the National Guard," says Gen.
Lauck, "because it is essential that a man and his horse be a unit. It has been found impossible to keep the same troop in a troop, and every time the men turn out mounted, they ride animals unaccustomed to the duties re-quired of them. The infantry is the only branch of the service that can be trained in the working factor.
Rather than expend more money for a cavalry troop, I would have the money spent for target practice."There are several friends of the Long Beach proposal among the legislators, however, and if the people of the searside city could place the necessary
credit. It is charged in the indict-
Southern Indiana and Illinois South-

FOR SCHOOLS.DESIRES FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO GIVE AID.Introduces Joint Resolution in Senate Calling Upon California Members in Congress to Promote Measure to This End—Anthony Would Protect Alaskan Fur Seals.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

Dispatch.] Senator Caminetti desires that the Federal government lend its aid to the establishment of more public schools in order that all the children of school age may obtain an education. To that end he introduced a joint resolution in the Senate today calling upon California members of Congress to promote a measure whereby the government will permit school districts of all kinds to deposit bonds with the Treasurer of the United States and receive in return government currency to the full amount of such bonds, on the same terms that national banks receive bank notes.The Senator calls attention to the fact that there are 25,000,000 children of school age in the United States, that only 14,000,000 are enrolled in schools, and that of these only 11,000,- 000 attend school regularly.Senator Anthony also presented a joint resolution calling upon the United States government to assume protection of Alaska fur seals in the open sea as well as on the Aleutian Islands, and to dispatch at once to the Pacific a sufficient number of armored vessels to give protection to an industry that is declared to be of great importance to the Pacific Coast.To prevent the attachment of soldiers to the coast guard, a measure introduced by Senator Bell of Pasadena, which exempts from taxation all orphan asylums.Promotion of the silk worm industry from San Francisco was brought forth by Senator Wright, who introduced a bill for the establishment of a silk culture experiment station at San Diego for the establishment of $10,000 for the station, and $5,000 for the station.In addition to other attempts along the same line, Senator Curtin presents a bill providing for the printing and distribution of pamphlets explaining the meaning of constitutional amendments submitted to the people at general elections. Legislators have come to the conclusion that most amendments fail because their import is not understood by the people.The widespread howl over the profligacy of the Legislature in the matter of patronage has brought forth several bills to limit the amount of money that new ones have been introduced in the Assembly, one by Field of Ukiah, the other by Thompson of Los Angeles. The latter places a limit of $650 a day for Assembly attachés and $450 a day for Senate attachés, which would mean a saving of about $100 a day as compared with present expenditures. Davis limits the expenditure to $500 a day. In each house, which is considered exceedingly liberal.The patronage fight popped out on the floor of the Assembly when it was proposed by Trammis of Los Angeles that three expert telephone operators be employed to operate a switchboard at the "new Capitol." This was declared to be the entering wedge by which the Legislature would gain money, and the proposal was fought back and forth for nearly an hour.
Cochran of San Francisco, leading the further raid the treasury, saying that "there was an abundance of public money that ought to be spent." Establido of Riverside, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, fought the measure, he said Case of Pasadena and several others, and it was lost by a close vote.Tutorships who seek to secure the appointment of a State Board of Naturalist Examiners and to regulate the practice of nature by, introduced a bill in the Assembly, through Peter Kelly of San Francisco, and are lobbied to gain the passage of the bill.
Los Angeles practitioners are on the ground in the interest of the bill.
The bill is to be introduced in the Senate by Case of Pasadena, and a bill raising the pay of horticultural inspectors to $750 a day, and of Horticultural Inspectors to $4.FRANK G. CARPENTER'S letter in The Times Magazine tomorrow will tell of the strange things he found in Tangle. The letter is a highly interesting one.

MADRID, Jan. 10.—During the hearing of the cases of Editors Nacoms and Ferrer, yesterday, on the charge of regicide, the question of procedure to be followed at their trial was argued. The public prosecutor declared that they should be tried by three judges, and that a jury trial be denied them. Counsel for the defendants insisted that the men be tried by jury and in their arguments advanced several precedents why the case should be so heard. The court reserved decision for a week.

LABORERS AND RESIGNE.
MADRID, Jan. 10.—During the hearing of the cases of Editors Nacoms and Ferrer, yesterday, on the charge of regicide, the question of procedure to be followed at their trial was argued. The public prosecutor declared that they should be tried by three judges, and that a jury trial be denied them. Counsel for the defendants insisted that the men be tried by jury and in their arguments advanced several precedents why the case should be so heard. The court reserved decision for a week.

No division being taken, the amendment was declared adopted 124 to 52. The bill was then sent to conference, the conferees on the part of the House being Messrs. Bingham, Litteraur and Livingston.

ORDERS LUMBER INVESTIGATION.

SENATE PASSES RESOLUTION TO PROBE SYNDICATE.

Senator Kittredge Says This "Trust" Is With Us from Cradle to Grave and is the King of Combinations in Restraint of Trade, Plundering Like Commercial Outlaw.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Senate today agreed to the Kittredge resolution instructing the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to investigate the "lumber trust."

Addressing the Senate on this topic Senator Kittredge declared it to be the "king of trusts in restraint of trade."

Continuing, he said: "In its far-reaching effects there is none to compare with it. The consumer not only bears the burden of its aggressive policy of advancing prices but also of the profits of intervening agencies. For him there is no escape from the avarice of this monopoly. When he sees these advancing prices without reference to increased cost of production he needs no argument to convince him that the government to which he contributes the support and renders true allegiance is derelict in its duty unless it employs all the resources at its command to relieve him of these oppressions. The people demand this as a right and not as a favor."

Kittredge said "that it costs $10 to manufacture the lumber at the mills and yields to the trust a profit of at least 200 per cent. According to the last census of the United States the value of the timber products in 1900 was $568,600,000."

"The methods by which this trust has obtained control of the lumber business of this country are no longer necessarily a secret. It not only arbitrarily advances the price of lumber but resorts to drastic and unscrupulous methods to crush competition. The mill men as well as retailers are also subject to like domination and like discipline."

As to the effect on the price of lumber he said: "Within the past five years the price of lumber and timber products have been arbitrarily advanced from 100 to 200 per cent. This is nothing better than robbery and is, in fact, the plunder of a commercial outlaw."

"Had the existence of the trust been known to the framers of the tariff acts of either 1890 or 1897, it is not probable that it would have been thought necessary to foster the lumber industry by a protective duty. There is neither necessity nor excuse for its continuance. It is not the policy of this government to foster monopolies and while it must be apparent that the present duties are solely responsible

GLARERS LOOT MAIN STREET JEWELRY SHOP.

During burglary of the jewelry store, the robbers cut through the window and took away the projecting pieces of glass and reached into the window show trays and selected the most valuable pieces of jewelry. Despite the fact that the patrolman on the beat had tried the door only a half-hour before he discovered the robbery, the officer cannot understand how the burglary could have been committed without being discovered. Absolutely no clue to the identity of the robbers is in the hands of the police. Several pieces of jewelry were dropped and the officers believe that the thieves were frightened away.

They are also described as being of Mexican descent. The police are offering a reward of $100 for information that leads to the arrest of the two men.

Scott, of 237 East Adams, Los Angeles, California, says: "I had a bad case of kidney trouble, and it left me with a backache. I could hardly get down. Just at that time I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking them, I got better, and have since then. I could give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for it. I feel this is a fine medicine for the kidneys."

Where Is Miramonte?

Almost touches the city on the south. Only 12 minutes from business. On the Huntington Electric system. Where 5c car fare is enjoyed. In plain view of the sun capped peaks. In the path of moderating ocean breezes. In the midst of full grown trees. Where electric poles are in the alleys. Where street improvements are the best. Where school, postoffice and stores are handy. Where there are no muddy streets. Where the people own the water system. Where homes are building rapidly. Where people like to live. Where 105 lots were sold in 21 days. Where values are increasing monthly. Where $600 or more secures a deed. Where monthly payments are possible.

abandoned in the service of the British King. The early took up the subject, and under Louis XIII developed several excellent regiments. Louis XIV numbered among his military advisers such eminent tacticians as Turenne, Turenne and Conde, and these pushed the cuirassiers to a still finer point of perfection.

The cuirassier of this period was heavily armed, carrying a sword and pike, a lance or a pike. Then came the famous Marshal Saxe to carry along still further the work of preparation that was to give Napoleon the finest cuirassiers in Europe.

It was Napoleon who laid down the code that for many a hard engagement was the law of the cuirassier. "All evolutions must be made at the greatest speed," ordered Saxe. "The cuirassier must be as handy and expert on horseback as a hussar, and well exercised in the use of the sword. Every squadron must attack the enemy sword in hand, and no commander shall be allowed to fire, save under penalty of the most infamous chastisement."

Until Frederick the Great came there was no cuirassier to rival those of the Marshal Saxe, but the German developed a body that did most remarkable fighting. Napoleon, with customary sagacity, adopted all that was best of every system, and the finer points of the knowledge of Saxe and Frederick he applied to his own cuirassiers. In 1805, against the Prussians at Jena and Auerstadt, they did matchless work, and were responsible for these successes.

That command of cuirassiers under Kellerman, numbered only two hundred, but it turned a rout into a victory, and by a rush of matchless valor put the Austrian army to flight, after what seemed a certain victory. The two hundred cuirassiers were directly responsible for the taking of two thousand prisoners, and the saving of Napoleon from the threat of a serious defeat.

Napoleon violated the law of Saxe, and permitted his cuirassiers to use their firearms when they could be employed to good advantage. They did this at Eylau. At Austerlitz and Wagram the cuirassiers brought victory to the legions of the Emperor.

The Russian campaign dealt hardly with the cuirassiers, for Napoleon, by one of the few oversights charged against him, failed to provide frost coats for the cavalry, and ruined that arm for the time.

But when Waterloo came the Emperor had managed to restore his cuirassiers to their old state of strength and proficiency. He relied on them in the struggle that broke his career, and they did not prove amiss, but the odds against which they pitted were too overwhelming for any bravery. The cavalry, knowing the prowess of the French cuirassiers, opposed them with the pick of its fighting force, the cavalry under General Ponsonby. This consisted of the Royal Dragoons, Scots Greys and Iniskilling Dragoons.

Bench Warrant for Belmont.
C. D. Belmont, proprietor of the Belmont saloon, on a bench warrant issued from the Police court yesterday, Belmont is the man who encountered Patrolman Rose, when the latter was on duty at the saloon, and who had shot his wife. The prisoner was struggling and the saloon man claims he thought a brawl was going on. Belmont was taken to the Police and Cross broke away from Rose. Patrolman Edward Murray recaptured Cross and the latter was taken to the Police charge of interfering with an officer.

Belmoth was to appear in court yesterday. He failed and the bench warrant was the result.

GREAT SNOWDRIFTS.

Men and Horses Buried in the Mountains—Wonderful Sight from Los Angeles

From ten to fifteen feet of snow is lying on the open ground in the mountains, and in the cañons and gulches it ranges from 30 to 200 feet.

North, Baldy, and about thirty miles from Palmdale, was in the city yesterday. For twenty-two years he has made his home in the foothills, and he says, he never has seen the snow.

At the Big Horn mine the cabins are buried under ten feet, and access has been obtained by digging a stairway through the snow. A horse is in the barn, and it is under a ten-foot fecal mantle. There is just a bale of hay remaining, and supplies for men and beast will have to be packed in. The hill stands in such a position that it run stands in such a position that it remains free of snow. "Some of the trees are covered with snow," said Shoemaker, "and you might as well say that there is 200 feet of snow. For the most part, the snow has melted. It has drifted in places so as to alter the landscape. There are snowdrifts that may do great damage when a warm rain comes along, and this is to be the banner year for water. I guess the snow won't clear out of some of those gulches until August. It wouldn't be so bad if the snow hardened so that one could get about, but it is bad traveling just now."

Seen from Los Angeles the Sierra Madre Mountains appear like a limitless phalanx of massed icebergs. Yesterday their thousand peaks seemed to lift higher toward the heavens than ever before, an appearance due to the mantle of dazzling snow that reached so far down their usually green, brown or blue sides.

Old Baldy, Mt. Wilson, Mt. Lower Strawberry Peak and a score of other monarchs of the sky have lost their ruggedness in the fleece of their new caps. Their outlines seem softened, yet more distinct, and the sun plays a thousand pranks with the shadows of

The glistering mountains were the center of attraction in Los Angeles where the roses are budding after the rains, and the oldest inhabitants say that never before have they seen such masses of snow in the mountains or so far down their sides.
